BACKGROUND:

The Global Summit on Skills Development 2008 - the 2nd International Conference on Skills Development - organized by Confederation of Indian Industry is scheduled on 17 – 18 September 2008, Silver Oak, India Habitat Centre, New Delhi, India.

India is brimming with opportunity. With the recent policy initiatives, a basket of schemes is available for skilling, re-skilling or up-skilling. The national agenda coupled with the industry & civil society initiatives form a perfect mix. As a diverse economy, having unique challenges & opportunities India needs to gain perspective of leaders & skills champions from across the world. In most parts of the developed world – the industry has a critical role to play in skills development. Participation of the Industry is imperative for enhancing employability and linking skills to job opportunities. An understanding of the Industry – Institute – Government partnership models is important for a growing economy like ours. With the provision of Sector Skills Councils in the National Policy, standards & benchmarking have been prioritized. It's important hence to review the functioning of the sector/industry skills councils & share the Indian story among stakeholders. Australia, Germany, UK, New Zealand, Singapore & Japan are case studies that need to be shared & discussed. The event will bring together skills professionals from the world over with a special focus on following sectors

➤ Automobile	➤ Construction	➤ Financial	➤ Health	➤ Retail
---------------------	-----------------------	--------------------	-----------------	-----------------

The Exhibition is an opportunity to showcase best practices & explore opportunity of partnerships with a large audience from the skills fraternity in India
